Such action was very unusual and there is a bitter feeling in the public lands committee over the matter. Though they say the house passed the resolution without noticing what it was the judiciary committee now have the matter under consideration as provided by the resolution and Ellis and a number of railroad attorneys representing the New Orleans (backbone) railway company have been arguing the bill. Members of the committee on public lands denounce the attempt to steal their business and this feeling may result in an explosion before the end of the week

TO ENCOURAGE SILK CULTURE.

WASHINGTON May 2—Senator George reported to day from the committee on agriculture and forestry an amendment it is intended to propose to the agricultural appropriation bill to provide that an appropriation of $30 000 be expended under direction of the commissioner of agriculture to encourage ment and development of the culture and raising of raw silk

WASHINGTON May 1—[Special]—Senator George from the committee on agriculture reported to the senate to-day the Miller amendment to the house agricultural appropriation bill providing an allowance for establishing a bureau of silk culture in the interior department, with favorable recommendation. With this endorsement from the committee the amendment was sent to the Allison committee and will be incorporated in the general bill. It ap[illegible] propriates $30 000 for the encouragement and [illegible] ment of silk culture and raising raw silk to be expended under direction of the commissioner of agriculture. It is the intention to establish a silk bureau as advocated by representatives of the California Silk Culture Association which has sent many petitions to congress

RYAN'S PENSION BILL

WASHINGTON May 2—Special—The house committee on pensions to-day agreed to report Ryan's pension bill favorably to the house. This bill [illegible] the arrears of pension act by adding these words [illegible]

[illegible]

A BILL DECLARED UNCONSTITUTIONAL

WASHINGTON May 2—The senate committee on territories [illegible] adversely the house bill [illegible] appointed governor [illegible] resolution two year[illegible] that the bill is opposed because it is [illegible] precedent in the selection of governors [illegible] territories because it is extremely doubtful whether any law [illegible] the constitutional power of the president to appoint [illegible] officers and for certain other reasons. The committee say further that the law could as well restrict the president [illegible] this matter to residents in any one state or persons of certain height or weight or particular complexion

FARLEY IN GOOD HEALTH

WASHINGTON May 2—[Special]—Several days ago a dispatch was sent from here to western papers stating that Senator Farley was very ill and not expected to recover in consequence of [illegible] caused by the excessive use of hair dye. This story is without the slightest foundation. Farley's hair and beard are now white and he is regularly attending to his duties in the senate. He was in his seat to-day. These dispatches are supposed to have been inspired by interests in California adverse to Farley's re[illegible]. As a matter of fact the senator's health is greatly improved since he came here

THE PATENT LAWS

WASHINGTON May 2—The senate committee on patents has instructed Chairman Platt to prepare a circular letter to be addressed to persons prominently interested in patented property and also to persons in favor of legislation for the protection of innocent users of patent articles asking their opinion on the provision of house bill 3933 [illegible] late practice in patent suits recently recommitted by the house and their suggestions as to what legislation if any is necessary pertaining to the matter

PUBLIC LAND FRAUDS.

How Foreign Syndicates Secure Large Tracts in the United States

WASHINGTON May 2—Some correspondence recently passed between the department of the interior and Senator Plumb chairman of the committee on public lands with reference to information called for by the resolution of March 17 last directing the committee on public lands to inquire in what manner large quantities of public lands become transferred to and possessed by foreign corporations and syndicates and what if any legislation is advisable to prevent such transfer or possession. On April [illegible] the secretary of the interior [illegible] to Plumb [illegible] from the commissioner of the general land office in which he states that there are [illegible] such [illegible] may legally acquire [illegible] the same day [illegible] reports from special agents [illegible] declined to publish [illegible]

[illegible] the town of England [illegible] The earl of Dunraven appears to be one of the [illegible] special agent found [illegible] were never [illegible] park at all. The remaining [illegible] were [illegible] by people who made [illegible] and a show of improvements. In no case was the law complied with

FRAUDS IN CALIFORNIA

Special agent W. T. Smith reports the result of an investigation in California into the frauds [illegible] Falkner Bell & Co. He secured complete evidence in a dozen cases proving that entry men took up timber lands under an agreement to transfer them to agents of the syndicate each entry man receiving $50 for his services. Further investigation was stopped by agents of the syndicate who surrounded the hotel with their henchmen and no one who had entry with them was allowed to approach the special agent's room

Under date of the 29th of April the secretary sent to the chairman of the public lands committee a supplemental batch of correspondence between the commissioner of the general land office and a firm of land brokers in Edinburg who had taken alarm at the introduction in the senate of the above mentioned resolution and desired to be informed if they would be interfered with in the possession of land already occupied. The commissioner replied to this letter stating that in his opinion no law would be passed retroactive in its nature, the property rights of all persons being fully protected in the United States. He says however that misapprehension may exist as to what property rights have been or may be acquired under recent state laws. He then stated in detail the methods by which public land may be legally acquired and closes with this statement: "Possessory rights to public lands other than authorized by settlement or improvement laws are not recognized and mere possession occupation or inclosure give no color to right, title or claim to any quantity of lands in the United States than the quantity authorized by law

THE RIVER AND HARBOR BILL

The Allowances for Oregon and Washington Very Meager

WASHINGTON May 2—[Special]—The house committee on rivers and harbors to-day concluded consideration of the bill and will be able to report in a few days. The last appropriations acted on were those for Oregon and Washington territory and as stated in these dispatches these districts did not fare as well as their representatives in congress expected. It was agreed to appropriate as follows: $40 000 for continuing improvement at Yaquina bay; the engineer's estimate was $140 000. For constructing the Cascades canal, for which the engineer's estimate was $500 000 the committee has agreed on an appropriation of $100 000. The upper Willamette river above Portland was allowed $5000 and the Columbia, below Portland, $100,000, in the former the estimate was $31 000 and in the latter $242 000. For the upper Columbia and Snake rivers for which the engineers estimated $58 000, the committee has agreed to appropriate $5000. Recommendations for the Coquille river, Coos bay and for improving the mouth of the Columbia were rejected. It was proposed to construct a jetty at the mouth of the Columbia from the south cape of the entrance to the spit and there attach it. There were some differences of opinion among the engineers as to the advisability of constructing this breakwater which would have cost $500 000 and the disagreement resulted in a minority report by Mendell. Seward Gralghill Comstock and Powell agreed that the improvement would be successful but Mendell reported that owing to the peculiar action of the tides on that part of the coast there were some doubts whether the plan proposed would succeed. The committee concluded that until the engineers reached some settled opinion on the subject it would be unwise to make an appropriation

The Coos bay estimate was rejected on the grounds that $37 00 had been already expended on a half tide jetty started near Fossil point, at the mouth of the bay and which is to extend on a curved line toward Coos

The estimate for the Coquille was also to construct a jetty and cut a channel through the south entrance permanently closing the present channel

The committee took the ground that as these improvements would cost a great deal of money it was better to wait till the present appropriations are exhausted. The total amount appropriated will be between $12 000 000 and $13 000 000

THE CHINESE BILL.

It Comes up for Consideration To-day—The Plan Mapped Out

WASHINGTON May 2—[Special.]—Immediately after the reading of the journal to-morrow morning the Pacific coast supplemental Chinese bill will come up in the house. Probably the entire day will be consumed in its discussion, but its passage before the end of the legislative day is almost certain. By an agreement entered into between Lamb who has charge of the bill as representative of the committee on foreign affairs and Rice of Massachusetts who will direct the opposition the general debate has been limited to three hours one and a half hours on each side. This will bring the bill before the house for amendment under the five minute rule shortly after 2 o'clock. It can surely be read by sections and amended by 5 o'clock the regular hour of adjournment

In anticipation however the score of the humbul[illegible] that may filibuster the order of the house set it apart the evening for tariff debate will be vacated to-morrow morning. Morrison agreed with Budd to day to make this motion. Were this not done when 5 o'clock is reached under the rules if the bill is not passed it would go over as unfinished business and thus be killed

Henley will make the principal speech for the bill and Rice the principal speech against it. [illegible] Glasscock Tully Lamb and Cassidy have divided up the remainder of the time allowed to advocates of the bill and besides Rice it is known that Hitt of Illinois and William W. Phelps of New Jersey will speak in opposition

Great Damage Done by Forest Fires in New York Pennsylvania and New Jersey—News Items from Various Points

Handling Their Own Quotations

CHICAGO May 2—The board of trade to-day took exclusive charge of handling its own quotations and other commercial quotations. Heretofore this work has been done by the Western Union telegraph company which had a force of news gatherers at [illegible] of the board who transmitted the quotations to individuals and commercial exchanges throughout the country. The company as a common carrier was unable to restrict the dissemination of this news and the consequence was the board of trade was unable to prevent the bucket shops from securing quotations. It was with the view of [illegible] the bucket shops that the board took the business out of the hands of the Western Union and [illegible] merely for the transmission of messages to points addressed. This went into operation to-day the board having its own operators and news gatherers on the floor of the exchange in uniform. Bucket shops here are unable to post quotations. SPORTING NOTES

THE GREAT WALKING MATCH

NEW YORK May 2—This afternoon a great stream of visitors poured into the garden. Rowell went off the track for an hour at [illegible]. He seemed in good condition but appeared a good deal worried by the lead Fitzgerald had gained, the distance being about eight miles. He made several spurts but only succeeded in gaining two laps. At [illegible] Vint was third man, with 388 miles, to Noremac's 386 and Herty's [illegible]. All three seem to be feeling well. After [illegible] there were fully 10 000 persons present. The crowd was very enthusiastic each contestant having a throng of admirers who shouted and yelled encouragingly as he pursued his weary way around the track. Fitzgerald went off the track just before 10 and when he reappeared a few minutes later was greeted with wild applause. The score at midnight stood Rowell 440 Fitzgerald 448 Vint 404 Noremac 392 Herty 393 Panchot 314 Elson 374 Nelson 350

BASEBALL

NEW YORK May 2—There were 15 000 people at the polo grounds to witness the game of base ball between the New York and Chicago league nines the game being the initial one in the contest for the champion pennant played in this city. The visitors put forward the strongest team but the New York men surprised their friends by defeating the champions in the most unexpected manner. The home team had an easy time of it. The following is the score: Chicago 3 New York 15

PROVIDENCE May 2—Providence 1 Cleveland 2

PHILADELPHIA May 2—Philadelphia 14 Detroit 2

To-day was the opening of the league baseball season

REMARKABLE SCORE.

CHICAGO May 2—In practice to-night for the forthcoming championship match with Joseph Schaeffer George Slosson in an 800-point game with an amateur ran 206 in the third inning, and in the nineteenth ran the game out and continued scoring, the most remarkable run on record at that style of playing making a total score of 741. A week ago he made 563 in practice with Schaeffer. The best run at this game is 413

FOREST FIRES

Great Damage Done in Pennsylvania New York and New Jersey

PHILADELPHIA May 2—A dispatch to the Press from Kane Pennsylvania says that forest fires have been raging for a week along the [illegible] hills and [illegible] and from Kane in McKean county [illegible] Emporium in Cameron county. [illegible] timber has been destroyed and [illegible] dwellings. The Sergeant lumber company [illegible] flames and by back firing they succeeded in saving the mill property and stock. The [illegible] were turned over for miles. At several points trains were [illegible] through fire. It is now believed that the flames have spent their fury

IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK May 2—Forest fires in the country round about [illegible] the atmosphere here with smoke

MIDDLETOWN N Y May 2—It reports from the mountains [illegible] and west show that the Adirondacks at [illegible] are on fire. A strong wind is blowing. It is possible to see only a short distance. No damage is reported yet but the danger is [illegible]. [illegible] farm houses at [illegible] are in great [illegible]. [illegible] fire is raging on Storm King [illegible] [illegible] near Cornwall and in the highlands west of Haverstraw. The air of Newburg is filled with smoke and ashes and burned leaves are floating about. Much damage to standing timber is apprehended

The works of Charles Wood's and 5000 cords of charcoal were destroyed. Fire also threatened the company's mine and 300 men are thrown out of employment. The town is hidden by smoke from the burning mountains. Emporium Pennsylvania sends word that forest fires are raging all through that section. The season is unusually dry and the wind is blowing a perfect gale from the west, sweeping the fire through the forest with great velocity and destroying a large amount of property. At Sterling Run nine miles from Emporium, several buildings belonging to a tannery company were burned to-day and a large mill was also destroyed. The village was only saved by aid from Renovo. Two families are reported lost, and the loss of life is great. At Sarsamont fifteen miles west of here two mills, with a large amount of lumber were destroyed

IN PENNSYLVANIA

WILKESBARRE Pa May 2—Forest fires have been raging fiercely hereabouts and great damage is reported. White Haven and the neighboring hills caught fire, and for a time the town was in great danger owing to a strong wind. The fire department of Wilkesbarre with the whole population subdued it. At California a lumbering town near White Haven a fierce fire started and eleven houses occupied by men in the lumbering business were burned. Bridges on the Bear Creek and Lehigh Valley railroad have been destroyed also the stables of Albert Lewis & Coal lumber contractors. Eleven horses also perished in this fire. A large quantity of valuable timber has been destroyed. The total loss is estimated at $50 000. The fire is now under control

Near Ashland Pennsylvania extensive fires are raging and the Ashland fire department have been ordered in readiness for service. At the state mining hospital workmen are fighting the flames near the building. The loss to timber tracts will be large. A heavy wind storm visited Northumberland county to-day and fanned to increased fury the forest fires

IN NEW JERSEY

WASHINGTON N J May 2—An extensive conflagration is raging in the mountains twenty five miles from here. The wind carries the smoke in dense clouds over this part of Warren county. At 5 this afternoon it became completely dark and a smoky pall, almost suffocating, rests over the town. The inhabitants are alarmed and the mayor has requested a number of members of the fire company to remain on duty during the night

A large tract of woodland is burning about three miles from Matawan New Jersey threatening a number of residences. Farmers are fighting the flames

FIRES

LIVERY STABLE BURNED

KANSAS CITY May 2—A fire at 10 o'clock last night destroyed the rear portion of J. E. S. Owleys & Bros livery stable on Fifth street. Twenty six horses perished in the flames. Quite a number of vehicles and a quantity of hay were destroyed

TO EXTEND THE TIME

WASHINGTON May 2—Senator Lapham introduced to day a bill to provide that the provisions of the act approved August 8 1883, to encourage and promote telegraph communication between America and Europe, be extended to cover a period until the 8th of August, 1886

THE RECENT STATE CONVENTIONS

WASHINGTON May 2—[Special]—Since the state [illegible] held their [illegible] congressmen and politicians in Washington have been busy speculating as to the probable result at Chicago. The last of the delegates are elected and many club rooms have private advices from their several [illegible] on which some of them are willing to wager [illegible]

Minnesota Republican Convention

[illegible] May 2—[illegible]

[illegible]

AN ANTI GREENBACK PLANK

The platform further declares in favor of the unlimited coinage of both gold and silver upon a basis of the intrinsic value of each in the markets of the world; the use of the treasury [illegible] and silver certificates equal in amount to the surplus gold and silver in the treasury, as a basis of its intrinsic value, whether coined or uncoined, and of redemption and cancellation by the treasury of all other evidences of debt heretofore issued or designed to circulate as money, as fast as such gold and silver certificates are issued. [illegible] for that purpose to the end that all [illegible] the government [illegible] value and not stand upon the simple obligation to pay [illegible] of the holders. We favor the restriction of the power of congress over the legal tender money of the country by such amendments to the constitution as will guarantee that the only full legal tender money coined in time of peace shall be of gold and silver possessing [illegible] intrinsic value

BLAINE DELEGATES ELECTED

The platform commends the administration of President Arthur as being manly and guided in [illegible] [illegible] declares Blaine the choice of the large majority of the republicans of Minnesota but [illegible] the state to give the [illegible] majority to the nominee of the party whoever he may be

The convention then elected delegates at large to the national convention and after the appointment of a state committee, adjourned

While the platform endorses Blaine it does not instruct for him. Three of the four delegates at large are personally pledged for Blaine. Senator Sabin delegate at large as chairman of the national republican committee declined to make a personal pledge to the convention but his friends gave a proxy pledge for him on behalf of Blaine

Kentucky Republican Convention

LOUISVILLE May 1—The [illegible] convention again assembled at 9 o'clock. By agreement Walter Evans a committee [illegible] selected permanent chairman without opposition

Speeches were made by [illegible] and [illegible] the convention adjourned till 1 o'clock, when the committee on credentials made their report. Then followed a general row and disorder that was almost a pandemonium

The majority report [illegible] the Blaine delegation in contest from the [illegible] district was finally adopted

The convention reaffirmed the principles of the national convention of 1880 expressed grief at the death of Garfield, and endorsed Arthur's administration

The Blaine men feel like they were counted out in the convention as regards the Louisville delegation, and a bolt this afternoon was the result. They will hold a convention soon, send two Blaine delegates to Chicago thinking that they will be recognized by the national convention

AN ARTHUR VICTORY

A decided sensation was created by a resolution attacking Chairman Walter Evans, offered by John D. White. The resolution congratulated the country on the defeat of the whisky bills and said "We regret the disposition of the commissioner of internal revenue, here present with government office holders, to control the convention in the interest of Arthur and we denounce their action as hurtful to the best interests of the republican party, and contrary to the letter and spirit of the civil service laws

Mr Evans refused to consider the resolution, and then followed the greatest confusion, while the resolution was finally tabled, amid groans and hisses

It was decided to send delegates uninstructed to Chicago. The name of Walter Evans was proposed as a delegate at large and White again bitterly denounced Evans and the men dominating him

At 1 o'clock a vote was taken for delegates at large. The vote was taken by counties. W. O. Bradley of Lancaster, Walter Evans of Louisville, and W. W. Culbertson of Ashland were elected delegates at large. All three are pronounced Arthur men. One other delegate is still to be elected

The convention adjourned till 9 o'clock Friday. It was an Arthur victory

FOURTH DELEGATE ELECTED

LOUISVILLE May 2—The republican state convention met again this morning and elected the remaining delegate at large, John W. Lewis of Washington county was chosen. The delegation now stands Walter Evans, W. O. Bradley, O. C. Culbertson and J. W. Lewis

North Carolina Republican Convention

RALEIGH May 2—The republican state convention met at [illegible] yesterday. Resolutions appointing a committee to confer with the liberals were adopted. A conference was held but without success. The committee was given until this morning before making a report. J. J. Mott and W. S. Dockery (white) and James E. O'Hara and James Harris (colored) were elected. The delegation is for Arthur

RALEIGH N C May 2—The republican convention nominated a state ticket. Resolutions offered instructing the delegates to vote for General Grant were tabled. Dockery, delegate at large is for Blaine. The district delegates are not solid. The platform compliments President Arthur, favors Blair's educational bill, declares that a well regulated tariff system and a reform uniting in favor of American industries should be maintained and all internal taxes abolished. Adjourned

Nebraska Republican Convention

LINCOLN May 2—The republican state convention concluded its labors at 3 o'clock this morning. The full delegation is John M. Thurston, N. S. Harwood, J. R. [illegible] and George A. Brooks, all Blaine men. Jensen and Brooks declaring themselves so [illegible]. A resolution instructing for Blaine was tabled by a vote of 320 to 271, the sentiment of the convention being against instructions of any kind

The platform endorses the administration of President Arthur [illegible] [illegible] the house of representatives calls for the construction of a navy commensurate with the needs of a nation ready to defend its rights and protect its citizens at home and abroad, and demands that representation [illegible] national republican convention [illegible] should be proportionate to the vote cast for president at the last preceding presidential election

State Prohibition Conventions

AUGUSTA Me May 2—The state prohibition convention to-day nominated for governor W. T. Eustis. Representatives to congress from the first district August R. Clark, second Reuben S. Hunt, third J. L. [illegible], fourth C. B. Besse

INDIANAPOLIS May 2—The prohibition convention selected delegates to the national convention and no state candidates for congressmen at large

PHILADELPHIA May 2—At to-day's session of the prohibition home protection party a platform was adopted recommending principally the suppression of the liquor traffic and compulsory education. An amendment favorable to asserting the political rights of women was voted down

Maryland Republican Convention

BALTIMORE May 2—Of four delegates at large elected at Hagerstown to-day three are strong for Blaine, the fourth is for Arthur with Blaine for a second choice. District delegations the first, second, [illegible] fourth and sixth are for Blaine making thirteen Blaine to four for Arthur, one [illegible]

The platform approves Arthur's administration and [illegible] of our industries [illegible]

[illegible] Congressman [illegible] James Wallace and Senator [illegible] were elected delegates at large

Florida Republican Convention

JACKSONVILLE Fla May 2—The republican state convention yesterday was a fierce contest. The delegates of the regular [illegible] selected as follows: M. Ledwith, [illegible] G. Seward, J. D. Cole, Dennis Egan. After the regulars had left the hall the opposition faction called a new convention to be held at 9 A. M. to-day. The delegates declared elected are Arthur men but are uninstructed

Ledwith's name was dropped from the delegates at large and [illegible] (colored) substituted. The [illegible] was sharply drawn in the convention. All the delegates at large are for Arthur

Utah Republican Convention

SALT LAKE May 2—The republican territorial convention in session to-day passed a strong resolution for the separation of church and state, favoring protective tariff, silver and gold of equal standard, endorsing the administration of President Arthur and Governor Murray favoring a legislative commission for Utah and [illegible] action for the suppression of polygamy. Governor Murray and General H. Kimball were elected delegates to the Chicago convention. C. C. [illegible] and J. H. Gallagher were chosen as alternates. The convention instructed the delegates to support Arthur as first choice

Rhode Island Republican Convention.

PROVIDENCE R I May 2—At the republican convention yesterday Governor A. O. Bourn, Pomeroy, Frank M. Bates, Eliasy H. Wilson and D. B. Littlefield were elected delegates at large to the republican national convention. Four alternates are also named. The delegation is unpledged and uninstructed. The personal preferences of the delegates and alternates is [illegible] to be four for Arthur, two for Edmunds and two for Blaine

Texas Republican Convention

GALVESTON May 2—A News Fort Worth special says: A permanent organization was effected by the [illegible] United States marshal as permanent chairman. The elected delegates at large are as follows: C. [illegible] for Edmunds, R. [illegible] for Arthur, Robert Tapp for [illegible] for Blaine [illegible] Their [illegible] [illegible] if the convention is said to be for Blaine

TARIFF TALK

The Proposed Compromise Fails Through—Converse Prepares a Measure

WASHINGTON May 2—For some days there has been [illegible] a compromise between the friends of the Morrison tariff bill and its opponents [illegible] by which [illegible] [illegible] the wool interests [illegible] Morrison [illegible] It is understood to-night at the [illegible] the Morrison bill must take its chances on its own merits. As near as can be learned the failure of the [illegible] compromise was due to the impossibility of recognizing the demands of the wool men with concessions which the friends of the Morrison bill were willing to make. The latter [illegible] approached the subject of concession [illegible] Wool they say had [illegible] cent of 18 per cent by the tariff of 1883 and the [illegible] complaint of unfair discrimination against this particular interest. It should be included in the further reduction of 20 per cent proposed by the Morrison bill. They should [illegible] clear by exempting wool from further reduction leaving the rates reduced 18 per cent below those of 1867. Would the woolmen vote for the Morrison bill if amended in this manner? To this proposition it is understood the latter replied that they were not willing to submit to one wrong for the sake of avoiding a greater one. They would not submit by voting for a bill thus amended that the [illegible] 1883 was right. They would [illegible] the [illegible] of 1867 [illegible] was restored. [illegible] the friends of the Morrison bill would have to go along without them

THE ULTIMATUM REJECTED

The matter came to a decisive point to-day when Geddes representing the wool interests, went to see Morrison and laid the ultimatum of his friends before him. Morrison informed him that the house had voted down the proposition to restore the old rates on wool and that he could not consent to such a proposition and he added he was obliged even [illegible] to entertain a proposition to exempt wool from the 20 per cent horizontal reduction proposed by his bill

Hurd and another member of the ways and means committee who were present at this conference, if such it may be called agreed with Morrison and expressed similar opinions

In view of this failure to effect a compromise opponents of the bill are asserting to-night the opinion that the Morrison bill will be defeated by striking out the enacting clause. The programme with regard to the method of defeating the bill has, however, been changed and instead of the motion to strike out coming from the republicans it will be made by a democrat, probably either by Eaton or Converse. It is thought the movement by the opponents of the bill will be strengthened by such a course and republican opponents of the measure, with this in view will waive an opportunity of making political capital, which taking the lead in opposition to the bill would give them

STILL CONFIDENT

Friends of the Morrison bill on the other hand say the motion to strike out the enacting clause, if made will be defeated and the bill with some amendments perhaps but practically with all its present features retained will pass the house. Some of them think Morrison has made a mistake in closing the general debate so soon, as in their opinion the debate gains friends for the measure every day it runs

To-morrow Converse will make certain propositions looking to the reduction of tariff rates which he will endeavor to have printed in the Record and he will accompany their presentation with a statement that if the Morrison bill should reach a stage in which amendments are in order he will offer them as amendments. The principal features of proposed amendments is that he contemplates a general horizontal reduction of 10 per cent from the present rates of duty on all merchandise imported in American bottoms in place of 20 per cent horizontal reduction proposed by the Morrison bill on all merchandise however imported. Another important difference between the plan that Converse will propose and the Morrison plan is that in the list of articles which Converse proposes shall come in free neither coal salt nor lumber is to be found

CONVERSE HAS A TARIFF MEASURE

WASHINGTON, May 2—Representative George L. Converse will introduce in the house, at the earliest opportunity an amendment or substitute to the Morrison tariff bill. The features of this proposed measure or amendment are as follows: The wool duties of 1867 to be restored, except as to carpet wools, which are placed on the free list with some twenty other articles; the metal schedule to be equalized by reducing the duty on some articles and increasing it on a few others; the tobacco internal tax to be abolished and provision be made for giving alcohol to manufacturers free of tax, manufacturers who manufacture for export to receive a rebate on their raw materials equal to the duty, less 10 per cent; a reduction of 10 per cent. to be made in favor of goods imported in American bottoms. This is said to be similar to the old law passed in Jefferson's administration, except that in the Jefferson law the duty was increased 10 per cent on the then existing tariff list while Converse proposes a 10 per cent. reduction. Converse thinks his bill will reduce the revenue $70 000 000 a year

Messrs. Fleming Bros.

I am a practicing physician residing permanently in this place. In the year 1843 when a resident of the State of Missouri, I became acquainted with the superior virtues of Dr. C. McLane's Vermifuge, prepared by you. At some more leisure moment I will send you the result of an experiment I made with one vial, in expelling upwards of 100 worms.

L. CARTER, M. D.

New York.

I do hereby certify to the public that a child of mine four years old, being troubled with worms, I was induced to purchase a bottle of Dr. C. McLane's Vermifuge prepared by Fleming Bros., of Pittsburgh, Pa., which I administered, and the result was, it brought away an immense number of worms in bunches and strings, many had the appearance of being cut to pieces. My child is now enjoying most excellent health. I take pleasure in recommending it to both young and old as one of the best medicines I ever used.

MRS. ANN JAMISON, 38 Ninth Street.

Mrs. Quigby, No. 182 Essex street, New York, writes us that she had a child which had been unwell for better than two months, she procured a bottle of Dr. C. McLane's Vermifuge, and administered it. The child passed a large quantity of worms.

FORTY YEARS.

GEORGE T. WHITE, Colton, Cal., writes that he has sold WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY FORTY YEARS, that he considers it a valuable preparation, that he does not know of any article that gives greater satisfaction to those who use it, and he does not hesitate to recommend it.

F. M. Towne, San Bernardino, Cal., writes: "WISTAR'S BALSAM has a great number of friends on the Pacific coast that can testify to its excellent qualities."

J. W. JONES, Benicia, Cal., writes: "I have sold DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY for over thirty years in this place, and find it one of the few cough medicines that has stood the test of time and which no modern preparation has been able to displace."

CHARLES B. LUCE, M. D., Genoa, Nevada, writes: I have used WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY for many years in private practice and consider it an excellent preparation for Coughs, Colds, etc. I cheerfully recommend it."

SATURDAY MORNING, MAY 3, 1884.

A PRESSING QUESTION.

Something has been effected towards reforming the civil service of the country, but the subject is one which needs continual attention. The great object to be gained is to take away from politicians the power of distributing official places among their followers as rewards for personal and partisan service. Of the corruption and demoralization of our political system this is the one great prolific source. The subject fully deserves the attention it receives at the hands of the independent journals and independent voters of the country. The pressure thus exerted is pushing the republican party on towards a right position upon this important issue. It is greatly to be regretted that there is so little inclination in the democratic party to adopt the same policy; and this fact will tell against it in the minds of a large class of voters throughout the country. We call attention to what Andrew D. White of New York, a delegate at large from that state to the republican national convention, says in relation to the general issues of political reform, and especially the continuance and development of the civil service policy. Mr. White does not speak for dreamers, theorists or "cranks," but for a large number of persons who have definite views upon a question of paramount interest; and they are men who will not be deceived or juggled with. He rightly says that they hold the balance of power in the great state of New York, and declares that they mean to insist upon and to enforce this reform. In Oregon the subject has not been pressed hitherto as it should have been; but the late republican convention recognized its importance by devoting a resolution to it and committing the party in the state to the support of the reform.

Of course it is understood that to make the reform complete the application of the present law should be greatly extended. The recent report of the civil service commissioners, appointed under the act of January 16, 1883, states the number of places in the whole country to be filled by competitive examination at 14,000 or over. Old soldiers and sailors, honorably discharged by reason of disability, are given the preference, and no discrimination is shown on account of sex. The commissioners recommend the further selection of chiefs of bureaus, postmasters and collectors from among the subordinates at the larger offices so as to bring business experience instead of mere partisan activity into those positions; and the suggestion is an eminently sound one. If the principles of the new law are right and just and the workings of the same feasible and practical, there is no good reason why they should not be made to cover a good deal more ground than they do now.

"It is still possible," the report says, "to promise the spoils of 100 000 offices as the rewards of party victory in a national canvass, and to remove every person in the classified service once in every four years or once in four months, but these vacancies can only be filled by those who have demonstrated the possession of character and capacity through a free, open, competitive examination." In other words, any man can be turned out of the civil service at will under the new law, but no other man can be appointed to fill his place unless he has complied with the provisions of the new civil service requirements, and has passed a creditable examination as to character and capacity.

The abuse is not half reformed; in fact only a beginning has been made. But every great reform must have its beginnings. And the present question is whether this one shall be abandoned or pushed on to completion. This is to be one of the questions of the presidential election. It is understood, of course, that the democratic party will want to remove out of the way every barrier to the distribution of places in the public service as rewards for political activity and partisan zeal. It refuses to commit itself against the spoils system, because it wants the spoils.

PSEUDO DEMOCRATS.

We have no doubt that the Rev. Mr. Eliot's sermon on the rights of the masses deserves the commendation which the Standard gives it. Mr. Eliot is a man of large and liberal public spirit, and intelligently, as well as unselfishly, devoted to the welfare of the masses. His sermon was probably democratic in spirit and sympathy in the best sense, but it is not clear that it expressed "the sentiment of the democratic party in its present attitude." As we have many times explained the democratic party is not democratic. In the southern states, where its principal strength lies, it is aristocratic. It believes and practices the doctrine that this is a white man's government. In this state nearly three thousand democrats voted to establish slavery, when the constitution was adopted, which was a far worse crime than to support it in an old state where it was already established. Throughout the north generally the leaders of the democratic party have no more sympathy with the masses than the republican leaders, while the rank and file of the democrats contribute very largely to the support of those who overburden the poor in their miserable homes. There is nothing to-day which so oppresses and impoverishes the masses as the liquor interest, which is almost exclusively controlled by democrats. The democrats in Ohio recently elected the representative of the most powerful and oppressive monopoly in the whole country to the United States senate, and refused to pass a bill which provided for the building of an oil pipe from Pennsylvania to Cleveland, intended to break the oppressive power of the Standard Oil Company. In the state of Pennsylvania the party is now in the ludicrous and humiliating attitude of having to accept, as a favorite son and candidate a gentleman who retains his place in public life only because the protectionist republicans of his state have made up and set apart a congressional district for him, and who is at present allied with republicans against his own party to defeat the only commendable legislative project of reform which the democrats have for many years shown the courage to propose or the disposition to execute. We point to these inconsistencies in the present attitude of the democratic party with sorrow rather than bitterness of feeling, for we cannot fail to recognize the fact that if this party was truly democratic it would be of great service to this country in preventing the growth of the evils which Mr. Eliot pointed out so clearly; and it would have no difficulty in gaining the control of the national administration, if the masses believed it would afford them any relief.

While the twelve delegates from Maine will vote for Mr. Blaine there is abundant evidence that the "plumed knight" has lost much of his hold upon his state. Senators Frye and Hale, his chief lieutenants in previous canvasses, are now inactive if not secretly hostile, and many prominent republicans do not hesitate to say that there are other candidates who would win more votes for the party in Maine. The Portland Press, the ablest party journal, says that the republicans of Maine do not desire to see Mr. Blaine nominated, "unless the republicans of what are considered doubtful states are practically agreed that his nomination would be the safest."

A year ago the Pennsylvania republican convention indorsed Wharton Barker's absurd plan for a distribution of the annual surplus among the states and territories, and a few months later the party organs, from the Philadelphia Press down, went into ecstacies of admiration over Mr. Blaine's no less absurd scheme of having the whisky and beer tax collected by the federal government and then turned over to the states and territories. But neither of these financial nostrums are now approved.

The experience of national conventions almost warrants the proverb: Happy is the man for whom few delegates vote on the first ballot.

CAVEAT EMPTOR.

There is a great demand just now for legislation to prevent the adulteration of food and drugs, but it is almost impossible to make any law on the subject really effective. Only the buyer and consumer has power to drive these imitation articles out of the market, and he will not do it because he wants cheap things. People can get the best if they pay for it and buy from a respectable dealer. If one wants a first rate watch he can readily be accommodated, but he cannot get it for $2 50 as he would like to. This cheap watch he can get, and it is just as good as the price warrants. Unfortunately there are dealers who will sell the cheap article for the genuine. Hence the laws we refer to. As a conscience of a storekeeper can no more be developed by a statute than a saloonkeeper's morals can be improved by some patent oath taking process, we find solemnly enacted laws simply laughed at or contemptuously ignored. The "tricks of trade" result from general, not special depravity. The ultimate hope is that necessity will compel men to be honest. In the meantime men must look out for themselves. Private enterprise can do more than the law to make men moral. A few men analyzed certain brands of beer and published the results. This did more good than all the laws ever put upon a statute book. Public inspectors do not inspect, as is pretty effectively shown every time a boiler explodes. An inspector of butter or cheese would be just as nonsensical and useless. It is the duty of a purchaser to know something about what he buys or at least to inquire something about it. At least he need not buy of a man whose character is doubtful and whose only advertisement is that he sells cheap. Men depend so much upon law to protect them that they become helpless children. It is high time to teach the doctrine—depend upon your own wits—defend yourself. The old system is a failure as we well know. To depend upon detecting frauds ourselves cannot be worse, and certainly in one sense will do us good.

It is safe to say that in the national convention there will be no "staying qualities" on the part of any of the delegates for Blaine or Arthur equal to those which characterized the delegates for Grant in 1880. Again the Blaine people are telegraphing over the country the roster of his delegates, and friends of Arthur are footing tables of those who are alleged to stand for him. But the uncertain character of the supposed preferences must not be overlooked. We are told how delegates will stand on the first ballot, yet the lists may not be even approximately correct, because the ardent friends of each candidate are pretty certain to overestimate the strength of their favorites. And if there is error in these first estimates who can tell how the problem will work itself out? The Boston Advertiser says: No political insurance company would take a risk on the estimate of how these same delegates will stand on the subsequent ballots. Especially is there uncertainty about the southern delegates, who are generally for "the winning man." If a hundred delegates stand together, however, and say that neither Arthur, nor Blaine, nor Logan shall be nominated, the chances are great, practically decisive, that another candidate than these will be placed on the ticket. As in 1880 there was an "irrepressible conflict" between the Grant and Blaine men, so now Arthur and Blaine represent an antagonism which cannot be repressed. The reserve corps of unpledged men, who are for neither of these leading candidates, can decide the whole matter.

The Northern Pacific Railroad Company claims that the government cannot forfeit the grant unless it takes the road with all its debts and completes it, making it a government road. Some of the best lawyers in the house are inclined to take this opinion, and if a forfeiture were declared by congress the company would take the matter to the supreme court, where it would be kept perhaps ten years. What the company fears is not the ultimate loss of its land grant, but the depressing effect of the proposed legislation upon its securities, and what is still worse, the loss of income caused by the refusal of people to buy land along the line of the road so long as there is any question about the title. President Harris was in Washington more or less last winter, but the interests of the road have been committed to Colonel Gray, the general counsel of the company, who has adopted Sam Ward's theory that the best way to reach the mind of a congressman favorably is through his stomach, and, a correspondent of the Springfield Republican says, there are some indications that he has already favorably influenced some of the leading members, with the impotency of any hostile legislation, through the seductive argument of terrapin and champagne, which he dispenses at Chamberlain's.

Republicans are confident and democrats do not doubt that there is a strong republican majority in Oregon. Hence the only question is how large the majority, on the popular vote, will be. But it is still felt by democratic politicians who are interesting themselves in the matter that there is a chance to make the legislature democratic and so secure to their party the United States senator. To the importance of securing the senator the republicans throughout the state appear also to be awake. The contest is likewise attracting attention in political circles at the east, as it may decide the political character of the senate for the next two or four years. In that body the strength of the two parties is just at an equipoise, and both therefore fully appreciate the importance of this consequence of our election.

It would be interesting to learn the opinion which the patriotic men who were soldiers in the civil war have of the attempts made by members of congress to curry favor with them by giving them advantages over other citizens, for which they do not ask. One of these attempts was the bill exempting soldiers in the civil war from examination as a condition of appointment to office where the salary is less than $1000. This bill assumes, as Colonel Lyman reporting against its passage said, that the honorable soldiers and sailors of the late war are willing to receive pay from the government without furnishing any evidence that they are competent to earn the pay. This is an attitude toward the government which these gallant men would be the last to assume.

The Philadelphia Record, in view of the vulnerable record of certain candidates, says it is not a good year for the republican party to hurrah with its mouth while working whitewash brushes with its hands.

"FROM BAD TO WORSE."

The Boston Congregationalist of April 17 says: "We have the following from Rev. F. R. Marvin pastor of the church referred to:

"Your report of the action of the First church in Portland, Or., from THE OREGONIAN was correct as far as it went, but it did not go far enough. The truth of the matter is simply this: This church has voted to do nothing but what is done by every Presbyterian church in the land, and by most of the Congregational churches in the west. The Presbyterian church never asks its converts to accept the Westminster confession in all points. The Presbyterian church is Calvinistic, and yet it will receive Arminians into its fold. The First Congregational church of Portland always examines candidates in the fundamental doctrines of scripture and requires them to give credible evidence of saving faith. We have not abolished our creed, nor have we even suspended it. We have reaffirmed our allegiance to the faith of our fathers; for when a gentleman, who has since surrendered his pew, moved to abolish all creeds, the pastor protested and his protest was sustained by the church. The people are deeply attached to their creed, and do not like to have it go abroad that they have given up anything of spiritual truth or of historic Congregationalism. The First Congregational church of Portland is as evangelical and sound at the core as any Congregational or Presbyterian church in the United States. We believe in all the great doctrines of God's word, including those of man's sinfulness and need of a savior, the redemption, the work of the Holy Spirit, the sufficiency of the scripture and the certainty of future rewards and punishments."

To this the Congregationalist replies:

"Our brother fails, apparently, to see that the Presbyterians have a safeguard, which the Congregationalists lack, in the course they take. Every Presbyterian minister is required to give assent to the Westminster confession, so that whatever his church may be, he must be 'for substance' orthodox. But a Congregational church which admits members without creed must expect them to choose a minister without one; and so it will go from bad to worse."

TRUTHFUL AS A GAS METER.—The common black, japanned tin gas meter is familiar to most of our citizens, there being some 1500 of them in use in this city. Very few, however, understand the workings of this mysterious box, and still fewer have implicit confidence in the truthfulness thereof. In fact, most people who have to settle the bills scored by it deem it a hollow-hearted, tin Ananias to whom the truth is an entire stranger, and to say that anyone lies like a gas meter is to intimate that he deviates as far from the frozen truth as the poles are asunder. A reporter of this paper who has often envied the reputation of the gas meter, ran across a nickel-plated, glass-mounted one yesterday at the gas company's office, and asked to have the internal arrangements thereof explained to him, especially that part which did the cooking of the accounts. He was much astonished when informed that it was absolutely impossible for the machine to lie in favor of the company, but it might under certain circumstances lie in favor of the consumer of gas. The reporter concluded that it would be easier to swallow a meter than that story and took a look at his informant to see if he had not a gas pipe attached to him. But after having the workings of the meter explained the astonished inquirer was obliged to confess that it was a veritable George Washington, and that if it ever did lie it was against the gas company who paid $4 for it, expecting faithful service. The working of the meter can be explained in a few words. It is divided into three compartments, one at the top containing the levers and cog wheels which work the dials marking the amount of gas passing through it. The bottom part is divided in two compartments by a flexible partition formed of tin plate and leather joints or hinges. The gas is admitted to a sort of cylinder with two ports fitted with valves. One of these being open the gas flows in on one side of the flexible partition and when enough has been admitted to force it over a certain distance to one side, the port is closed and the one admitting the gas to the other side of the partition is opened and the partition forced back again. Levers attached to this partition move the wheels attached to the dials, so that the meter is just a sort of engine run by gas power to turn the hands on the dials. A certain amount of gas must enter on each side of the partition to make it open and close the ports, and so there is no chance for the machine to lie. When the leather hinges become worn and full of holes gas passes through the partition and is not accounted for. The company, however, does not lose much, for when a meter gets leaky in John Smith's store and his bill grows small, Tom Brown, who has the same number of burners, finds out that Smith's gas bill is less than his own. He rushes off to the company's office and makes a kick. Instead of reducing Brown's bill the company at once put a new meter in Smith's store, which brings his bill up to high water mark, and renders both parties unhappy and more than ever convinced that the meter is a born prevaricator. The reporter is painful to thus put the ax to the root, as it were, of one of the most deeply rooted convictions of a long suffering community, and will be happy to have anyone prove him mistaken in his deductions in this matter.

SALMON CANNERIES SUED IN EQUITY.—W. T. Coleman of San Francisco has filed a bill in equity in the United States circuit court against the Union Packing company and G. G. Smith, C. Carlisle and others, and against the White Star Packing company, to prevent them from disposing of the product of their salmon fisheries on the Columbia through any other commission house than that of W. T. Coleman & Co. It is well known that Coleman & Co. have been advancing money to a number of canneries on the Columbia, and has in return been allowed to handle their product. The canneries above referred to have become dissatisfied with the manner in which their business has been done, and have concluded to employ another agent. Coleman claims that he had a contract entitling him to the exclusive right of handling the product of these canneries till 1887, and asks for an injunction to prevent any other parties from doing this business. It is charged that the canneries have violated their contract. The cannery men claim that they have been cinched in many ways by Coleman & Co., who have been enabled to control the market for salmon and have worked against the interests of the producers, whereby they have violated the contract. The cannery men are ready and willing to pay Coleman & Co. all that is owing to them, but are determined to have no more of this funny business.

RULES FOR RIFLE CONTESTS.—At a regular meeting of the Portland Rifle Club held on Wednesday evening, April 30, the following rules were adopted to govern competition for the new medals recently procured by the club: Each competitor shall shoot a score of fifteen shots at the second regular shoot in the month, provided that if he be absent on that day he may shoot his score on the next regular day the club shall shoot. The competitor making the most points shall be entitled to wear the medal one month, taking possession on the day the competition is finished two weeks after it is first shot for. The member making the most points under fifty shall wear the second-class medal. Each member shall shoot five scores, and the member making the most points (in these five scores) at the end of the second shoot in September, shall become the unconditional owner of the first-class medal, and the member making the most points under an average of fifty shall become the owner of the second-class medal. The secretary and shooting master are to have charge of the score book and keep all scores. Captain Schneider offered the club the use of a fine range at City View Park, and on motion the offer was accepted and the club ordered to shoot there to-morrow, commencing at 10 o'clock A. M.

PAINFUL ACCIDENT.—J. S. Guild, formerly of this city but now residing in Washington county, met with a severe accident Thursday. He had been on a visit to Yamhill county with his brother, and on their return, just after they had passed the summit of the Chehalem mountains a farmer's dog jumped over the fence into the road in front of their team, a pair of spirited colts, which ran away. Mr. Guild was thrown out and the wagon passed over one of his legs, breaking the bone just above the ankle, and bending the foot around at right angles with the leg. His brother succeeded in stopping the team by running them against a bank. Mr. Guild was picked up and rode eight miles on the seat in this condition, when the wagon was exchanged for a buggy, on the bottom of which a lot of straw was placed, in which he was laid and brought to this city for treatment, arriving here about 1 o'clock yesterday morning. Dr. Saylor was summoned to attend him at the residence of George Guild at the north end. The limb was much swollen, but the dislocation was reduced, to the great relief of the sufferer, who had endured the most intense pain for about twelve hours.

CONVICTED OF THEFT.—Louis Nolan, a tall, awkward looking youth about eighteen years old, was yesterday brought before Justice Bybee on complaint of Captain S. D. Brown, of the steamer Cleveland, charging him with stealing a shotgun, pistol, ratchet, five large wrenches, drills, a clock, lantern, etc., from the said boat. Brown testified that Nolan admitted to him that he had stolen all these things at various times. The goods were alleged to be taken from the steamer while she was tied up at the foot of Madison street. Nolan admitted taking some of the goods, when examined by the court. The evidence against the young man was only sufficient to constitute petty larceny, and he was accordingly sent to jail for twelve days. After he was behind the bars he was visited by his mother. He laughed and joked so much about the matter that his mother said, "Well, you seem to like the place you are in." "You bet I do," was the reply of the hardened youth.

GARDEN HOSE STOLEN.—W. J. Van Schuyver purchased 100 feet of hose a short time since for the purpose of keeping his garden green. A night or two ago he forgot to put it in his safe and in the morning it was gone. Yesterday morning he called at the Gutta Percha company's establishment to buy another hose. He saw some exactly like that which he had lost. He was asked which of several different priced varieties he would have. He shocked Mr. Bowers, the agent, by replying that if he was going to be allowed to keep the hose he would take the best, but if it was to be brought back soon he would take the cheapest. Parties having garden hose will do well to put it at night in some secure place, say the wood shed with the door left open, where it will be easy of access to the needy and deserving burglar, who may thereby be saved the trouble of picking a lock or crawling through a window.

HARD TALKING.—Yesterday afternoon a row took place in the bar room at the Norton house between Young O'Neill of the Ross house and a fellow called "Scotty" Jameson. The trouble arose about a bill for board which Scotty owed O'Neill, and either could not or would not pay. From words they proceeded to blows, and Scotty was rather roughly handled by the crowd, who were friends of O'Neill. Captain Hair, who happened to be near, was called in, and on demanding to know what was the matter was told that it was only some back talk. The blood stained countenances of the combatants tended to show that some very hard talking had been done. Scotty left with the avowed intention of swearing out a warrant for the arrest of his opponent.

WILL LIGHTER EIGHT HUNDRED TONS.—The ship Olive S. Southard, which went down the river a few days since drawing twenty-two feet, ran upon a hummock at Walker's island bar, where there was only twenty-one feet of water. Consequently, she did not run off, but stuck fast. The captain thought that by lightering 300 tons of the cargo the ship would float, and accordingly the steamers Alice and Church were sent down to his assistance. It was found, however, that the ship would not float off, and yesterday the barge Autocrat was sent down to lighter 500 tons more. It is to be hoped that when this amount is removed the ship may be got off, and that then a snag-puller may be sent down to extract that hummock.

END OF THE TERM.—Judge Boise, who was acting for Judge Seneca Smith, yesterday adjourned the January term of the state circuit court, which has run to within one judicial day of the May term. An unusual amount of both civil and criminal business has come before this court during the past term, notably three cases of murder, the criminals being J. W. Murray, William Bloxsin and Thomas Sheridan. Each of these cases have been disposed of, at least so far as this court is concerned, in a manner satisfactory to the people who expect protection from the law. The May term begins on Monday.

ACQUITTED OF LARCENY.—William Whitworth is the young man who was the other night taken in tow by the police for having a sack of pistols and knives in his possession, alleged to have been taken from F. R. Chown's hardware store, when it was burglarized some weeks ago. He was put on trial before Justice Bybee yesterday morning. The justice, after hearing all the evidence, acquitted Whitworth, and also a boy named Brown, drawn into the matter, of any criminality in the matter, it being evident from the testimony that they found the stolen property, where it had been concealed by the real thieves.

INCENTIVES TO GOOD MARKSMANSHIP.—Two handsome gold badges to be shot for by members of the Portland Rifle club, are on exhibition at Hudson's gun store. The first prize is circular, with a target in the center, and is suspended from two rifles crossed. The second prize is in the shape of a maltese cross, with a target in the center, and is suspended from a single rifle. They are very handsome and the men who win them will need to have steady hands and clear eyes to draw a true bead.

SUDDEN DEATH OF A PIONEER WOMAN.—Mrs. A. R. Flint of Roseburg arrived here a few days since in company with her husband, en route for the east, and stopped to visit Mrs. E. B. Kearny. On Thursday Mrs. Flint was taken sick with neuralgia of the stomach and died early yesterday morning. She was a pioneer woman, having arrived here with her husband in 1853, since which time they have resided in southern Oregon. She was aged about 70 years.

DIED AT HER BROTHER'S RESIDENCE.—Mrs. Elizabeth Connor, wife of John Connor, banker, of Albany, died suddenly at the residence of her brother, Henry Failing, in this city, at 1 o'clock yesterday morning. Mrs. Connor was afflicted with asthma, and was visiting this city for medical treatment. Out of respect to her memory the wholesale house of Corbett, Failing & Co., closed its doors yesterday.

SENT TO THE PENITENTIARY.—Two men were yesterday sentenced by Judge Boise to serve one year each in the penitentiary for the crime of larceny. One of them, Frank Mossman, pleaded guilty to stealing a child's "bank" and its contents of silver coin. The other was John Hennessey, who broke a window in Max Strobl's store and stole some watches. He also pleaded guilty in order to get a light sentence. Both men will probably be taken to Salem to-day.

TRAIN DELAYED.—The Pacific express, due here at noon yesterday, did not arrive till 10 o'clock last night. The delay was caused by an accident to a bridge on the Montana division. There was no foundation for the rumor in circulation yesterday afternoon that a mail car on the train had been burned. The train to-morrow will arrive on time.

BRIEF MENTION.

The Chinaman found hidden in the bath room of Mrs. J. O'Neil's residence was held to answer by Judge Moreland yesterday. His bail was fixed at $1000.

The Willamette stove works, T. M. Rodgers manager, has been finally removed to a point just this side of Milwaukee. The works will be in full operation in about two weeks.

Lincoln Geiger, who was arrested the other day at Clatsop Plains by Sheriff Twombly of Astoria, upon a dispatch from Sheriff Sears of this county, is not wanted for seduction, but upon a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses.

A letter from Rev. J. Q. A. Henry, the new pastor of the Baptist church, was read in the society meeting Thursday night, announcing definitely that he would leave Sacramento on the 8th of this month and arrive here in time to preach his first sermon Sunday, the 11th inst.

Several huge derricks were being loaded on board a barge at the Ash street wharf yesterday. Two hoisting engines accompany them and all are to be taken to Kalama and forwarded to Olympia on the Northern Pacific railroad. They are to be used in repairing a trestle at that place.

A MAN-OF-WAR COMING.

The Secretary of the Navy Promises that a United States Naval Vessel Shall Soon Visit the Columbia River.

The following correspondence in reply to the application recently made through our representative at Washington to the secretary of the navy by the Astoria chamber of commerce, requesting that Rear Admiral Upshur be ordered to visit the Columbia river in the United States flag ship Hartford, will interest the readers of THE OREGONIAN:

UNITED STATES SENATE,
WASHINGTON, D. C., April 23, 1884.

E. C. Holden, Esq., Secretary Astoria Chamber of Commerce, Astoria, Or.—Dear Sir: Your telegram of the 15th inst. was duly received. I called upon the secretary of the navy Saturday morning and found that Senator Slater had been there before me. The secretary said that the flagship Hartford was under orders which he thought could not be countermanded, but that the next ship of the navy which visited the northwest coast would be ordered to visit Astoria and Portland. He, however, did not finally decide the matter, but promised to telegraph, as I understood, to Mr. Slater and myself his decision, but as neither of us have heard from him I think I may have misunderstood him, and that he proposed to telegraph directly to you. Respectfully,
J. N. DOLPH.

P. S.—Since writing the above I have received a letter from the honorable secretary of the navy, a copy of which I enclose.
J. N. D.

NAVY DEPARTMENT,
WASHINGTON, D. C., April 21, 1884.

Hon. Joseph N. Dolph, United States Senate: Sir: —In response to your requests that the people of Oregon may be gratified by the presence in their waters of the flagship Hartford of the Pacific squadron, I have to state that prior to your requests the orders of the Hartford had been determined upon and arrangements made accordingly, which cannot be wisely broken up.

Appreciating your desire and that of your people that our naval vessels shall often visit the Columbia river, it will give me pleasure to arrange for such a visit from a man-of-war at the earliest practicable opportunity.

The telegrams received by you are herewith returned. Very respectfully, W. E. CHANDLER,
Secretary of the Navy.

FACTS AND FIGURES.

A Combination That Can't Lie.

Advertising has become a necessity of trade. Many avenues have been adopted to introduce wares. There is one way which discounts all others in advertising; that is, the method which Mozart's Cloak and Suit House, at 70 Morrison street, has advanced. For the benefit of the public we explain the way. In facts and figures Mozarts will sell an elegant real ostrich tip for 35c, the same tip being worth $1.00. Now the purchaser of that article does more advertising for Mozart than a hundred dollars spent in the papers. The same way with other things found at Mozarts. Everything is of best quality and at remarkably low prices. Mozarts have, without any exaggeration, the best selected assortment of hats, bonnets and plumes to be found in Portland, and they are selling them at prices

That make rivals swear
And the people stare.

Mozarts is the only place you can get a baby's bonnet for 25c; full finished extra long hose, 15c. Ladies' underwear far below cost of manufacture. Then go, look in the ready made suit department: woolen suits, $7.50, $10 and $15; stylish silk suits, $30, $25 and $40. That's the way to advertise. Sell the goods cheap and the place soon becomes a popular store like Mozarts' Cloak and Suit House, No. 70 Morrison street.

ORIGIN AND DISTRIBUTION OF COAL.

How this Valuable Fuel has been and is being Formed, from the Earliest Silurian Age Down to the Present Time.

At the last monthly meeting of the National Science association a paper was read by W. H. Smith on the origin and distribution of coal. He said that it was universally conceded that coal was of vegetable origin, but there was some difference of opinion as to how this vegetable matter was concentrated into masses or bodies which in future ages became stone coal. He showed how this was done in the ordinary peat marsh, with which most people were familiar. The ordinary peat bog is formed in depressions in the surface of the earth at or near the water level. The mosses and marsh weeds and in fact shrubs and evergreens grow in the depression, forming the marsh. When this vegetation dies it falls into the water and is then partially decomposed, some of it being converted into carbonic acid, and some into marsh gas or light carburetted hydrogen. The remainder is embalmed, or preserved, and in future ages converted into coal. As the crust of the earth subsides, the peat increases in thickness upwards till it is finally submerged beneath the sea and covered by a thick layer of mud and sand. This process has been going on from the earliest Silurian age down to the present time, but during the earlier history of the earth, through the Silurian and devonian ages, the crust was so thin and the internal heat so great that these accumulations of peat, when submerged deep beneath the sea, were consumed by the heat, leaving nothing but graphite or plumbago to mark their location. Hence we do not find coal in the older and lower formations. As the lower peat beds were consumed or distilled, the volatile carbon so set free found a lodgment in the overlying deposits of peat by passing through the seams of the intervening strata of sediment which had dried and become shrunken by the great heat. The overlying vegetable beds having their water driven off by the heat from below, would become thoroughly saturated by the distilled carbon from below, which, with the great pressure of earth and water, would convert what was previously a mere vegetable powder into a hard pearl-crystalline substance known as coal, having several times the amount of carbon it contained previous to its conversion into coal, by the accession of distilled carbon from lower beds of peat and a greatly increased specific gravity.

As the earth increased in age and the crust became thicker, there would finally be a point at which the internal heat would cease to destroy these peat beds. At this point would be the location of permanent coal beds and known as the carboniferous age; while outside of this medial line of the true coal measure good coal is seldom found, because the vegetable deposits in the form of peat remains nearly as they were submerged, without the addition of bituminous matter from consumed peat beds below. This is why we find all grades of lignite above the coal measure from a fine article of coal to peat beds now being found on the surface. He claimed that all coal beds had their origin on subsiding coasts, and were carried down beneath the sea, and so were preserved for future use. Mr. Smith exhibited specimens of grass and other vegetable matter that had been converted into coal, at Coos coal pits, through the process described above. He expressed the opinion that the Willamette valley at a very remote period was a vast peat bog, and that, if it had not been destroyed by heat as above described, it was probably underlaid by immense coal fields. The great difficulty in the way of determining this is the vast amount of fresh water and glacial debris that overspreads the valley.

The same thing might be said of the coast counties. These difficulties are not insurmountable. It is easier to raise coal 1000 feet in our own door yard than to import several hundred miles from other lands. With first class coal mines, unsurpassed water power, and other great resources, western Oregon might be made to rival even England itself in manufactures.

Pennsylvania, perhaps the richest coal region in America, has but recently, so to speak, emerged from the Atlantic Ocean, and her coalfields are unencumbered by freshwater wreckage, while Oregon is covered to a great depth with the washing and erosions of rivers and lakes in the interior of the continent during millions of years. It is to be hoped that our enterprising people will look to this matter and come forward with the necessary means, and pierce this mantle of earth, rock and gravel that separates us from unbounded wealth and prosperity.

The paper was illustrated with charts and specimens of natural and manufactured coal, and also a miniature section of the earth's crust, with its strata made of clay and containing peat beds undergoing change into coal. Dr. H. N. Holander and Dr. K. Mackenzie were elected members of the association.

AMUSEMENTS.

CLAIRE AND THE FORGE MASTER.—This play, which was produced in San Francisco some time since, and ran for two weeks, and the company which presented it, received the united praise of the press of that city. Portland is to have the play next week at the New Market, with the same company. Last week the play was given in Sacramento, and the Record-Union, speaking of the first programme, says: "The company that produced 'Claire and the Forge Master' at the Metropolitan theater last night is the best, as a whole, excepting only that supporting Modjeska, that has appeared here since the brilliant engagement of the Union Square troupe. No piece has been better acted here in years, and no company of better balance and more even merit has appeared in modern drama here in a long time. Without being an ideal troupe, it is thoroughly good stock, with sound lumber throughout. Its work is not the loftiest coinage of art, but it is dramatic art work of a very superior order, and those whose tastes in things dramatic are of the best will not regret an evening given to it. The play is a natural story of love, jealousy and the triumph of noble natures over hardness of heart and the pride that goes before a fall. Miss Louise Pomeroy, the leading lady, is graceful and of fine stage presence. Her success was unmistakable. She did not thrill by any wonderful display of dramatic power, but she identified herself with the part in hand completely, and with true artistic discernment gave a finished and spirited representation of a most interesting character. She is a practiced actress, and unfolds her power as the role demands, expressing the thought and feeling of the part as they develop in the combinations of dramatic form, acting with a clear purpose and adequacy of vigor."

THE TIVOLI.—The Mascot continues to be the attraction at the Tivoli. Olivette is underlined for early production.

Eminent physicians attribute the great prevalence of paralysis to the adulteration of our daily food. The first conditions of healthfulness are secured when care is taken in selecting the articles which enter the food we eat. Let all the articles used be as pure, wholesome as Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder, and we warrant that none will suffer.

"Fashion Notes."

Ladies', misses' and children's very fine shoes are made long vamps, wide toes and low heels, on straight lasts. There is also the Opera shoe, worn by many, which is quite the extreme to the former; also very neat for young ladies. At Wiberg & Hollabaugh's is the place for these goods. They have the largest stock now in the city in all the popular makes, in Paris goods, in widths 00, 0, B, 1, 2, 3 and 4, and in American Nos. A, B, C, D, E and EE. Save money and buy at this house. The best is the cheapest.

BOARD OF FIRE COMMISSIONERS.

Regular Meeting Yesterday Afternoon—The Department Invited to Participate in the Celebration of Decoration Day—Routine Business.

A regular meeting of the board of fire commissioners was held yesterday afternoon, all present, President Ackerman presiding and the chief engineer in attendance.

The minutes of the last regular and special meetings were read and approved. The following communications were read:

From the Jefferson street ferry company, asking that their claim of $60 for the months of February, March and April be allowed, for the care of the fire pumps, etc., on board of the ferry boat Vale, as per contract with the city. On motion, the same was taken under consideration until the next regular meeting.

From the committee of the Grand Army of the Republic, asking that the department co-operate with them in the memorial exercises on Decoration day. On motion, the same was accepted, and the secretary instructed to acknowledge its receipt.

On motion, it was ordered that the chief engineer be instructed to ascertain the cost of filling in the front of the new engine house to the proper grade of the sidewalk.

From the U. S. Electric Light and Power Company offering to light the various engine houses with electric light from early dusk until daylight; placed on file.

From James Scott, applying for exempt certificate, being an exempt member of Volunteer company No. 4 from April 6, 1876, to the date of the creation of the new department; referred to the secretary with instructions to grant the same if found correct on the department register.

From the chief engineer presenting his report for the month of April; placed on file.

From the superintendent of the fire alarm telegraph, informing the board of progress being made in the placing of the new fire alarm box recently ordered, together with other matters relative to the fire alarm; placed on file.

On motion the following changes and appointments made by the chief engineer during the month were affirmed:

J. Hanley, appointed extraman of Engine Company No. 2, vice D. F. Nemis, resigned.

G. Traynor, appointed extraman of Engine Company No. 3, vice O. Chambers, resigned.

J. O'Connor appointed extraman of Hook and Ladder Company No. 1, vice H. Oerser, resigned.

W. H. White, extraman of Truck Company No. 1, promoted to driver of Hose Company No. 1, vice Dennis Murphy, transferred to extraman of Hook and Ladder Company.

A. Myers appointed extraman of Truck Company No. 1, vice J. Fretney, promoted to driver of engine company's hose No. 2, vice John Kearney, resigned.

We Believe

that in this age of competition advertising is absolutely necessary, and we follow the teachings of our belief, and make a liberal use of printers' ink in promulgating the attractiveness of our stock of clothing for men's, youths' and boys' wear, for we actually have goods and bargains worth talking about. At the same time there is such a thing as going to extremes in Advertising.

Blowing one's horn to the extent of several pages of a daily paper, when you have nothing new to say, is an extravagant farce. The public is apt to suspect the house that monopolizes the columns of a daily paper. But we do not propose to write an essay on the art of writing an "ad." We merely wish to call attention to some new goods, and as we have reached the end of our space, we will say: Simply come and see our new spring stock of clothing, furnishing goods, hats, etc.

FOREIGN NEWS.

ENGLAND.

DEBATE ON THE FRANCHISE BILL.

LONDON, May 2.—The debate on the franchise bill was resumed in the commons last evening. Henry Chaplin, member for mid Lincolnshire, introduced the following motion: "That the house considers that largely increased electoral privileges of Irishmen, at a time when many are bitterly opposed to British connection, and when the openly avowed object of their leaders is to sever that connection, is dangerous to the welfare of the state, and cannot fail to strengthen the arms of the separatist party." Mr. Gladstone said it was impossible to maintain union between England and Ireland, except by giving equal rights to both countries. England was strong enough in wealth and population, as compared with Ireland; let her be equally strong in right and justice and she would have abundant force to settle whatever matters might arise between the countries in the future. Chaplin's motion was not passed.

FRANCE'S REPLY TO GREAT BRITAIN.

LONDON, May 2.—Waddington, French minister, has delivered additional dispatches from his government to Granville, in which it is stated that the contemplated Egyptian conference can not be confined altogether to financial matters. The security of the bondholders cannot be reduced to defray the expenses of the late adventurous enterprise. The cause of the difficulties which now embarrass the Egyptian treasury department lies in appropriations made partially on the ground of present necessity, and a precedent has been established which will be certain to result in a renewal of the practice of recurring troubles of a similar character.

Egypt has not been invited to take part in the conference. The impression exists that France and England are discussing the idea of disbanding the Egyptian army.

LONDON NOTES.

LONDON, May 2.—It is surmised that nitro-glycerine has been conveyed to England in American spirit flasks, the customs officials having been hoodwinked by that method of conveyance.

At the Hamilton library sale to-day Bolles' history of Scotland, containing an autograph of James V., dated 1536, realized £800, and a prayer book containing an autograph of Charles I brought £137.

THE ENGLISH TURF.

LONDON, May 2.—The race for the 1000 guineas stakes, three year-old fillies, at Newmarket to-day, was won by Arlington's, formerly Falmouth's filly, Busy Body, by a length and a half. Willoughby's filly, by Hermit out of Adelaide, was second. The latter was afterward christened Queen Adelaide. Bradford's Billy Whitelock was a bad third.

BANK FAILURE.

LONDON, May 2.—The Oriental bank has suspended payment. The continued drain of resources by the withdrawal of deposits, the loss of credit and consequent fall in its shares have combined to prevent the bank going on until a bill can be obtained from parliament, authorizing it to raise capital.

DYNAMITE.

LONDON, May 2.—It is now considered certain that many flasks of nitro-glycerine, similar to those found in Egan's garden at Birmingham, have been carried across the Atlantic to this country. Egan's glycerine is superior to Whitehead's.

TO HELP GORDON OUT.

LONDON, May 2.—The Egyptian government has offered a Soudan chief £5000 to bring General Gordon from Khartoum.

LIVERPOOL GRAIN MARKET.

LIVERPOOL, May 2.—Breadstuffs, quiet; inquiry is moderate. Wheat, California, 7s@7s 9d; club 8s@8s 5d.

THE CATTLE DISEASE BILL.

LONDON, May 2.—The cattle disease bill has passed the committee stage in the commons.

DEATH OF AN EX GOVERNOR.

LONDON, May 2.—General Kalzbre, ex-governor of Poland, is dead.

GERMANY.

THE AMERICAN PORK QUESTION.

BERLIN, May 2.—The North German Gazette, referring to Prof. Virchow's letter, says: "It is well known that there is a far higher percentage of trichinae in American pork than in the German. As Prof. Virchow urges compulsory examination of German pork it is justifiable to prohibit the importation of American pork. As it is impossible for trichinae to be rendered harmless, or their presence indicated with the microscope, prohibition of American pork is our only protection."

BLOWN IN BY DYNAMITE.

BERLIN, May 2.—A baker's house at Hagen was blown in to-day by dynamite. The motive of the outrage is unknown, but, taken in connection with a similar outrage in the same region it shows that the preachings of Johann Most and O'Donovan Rossa are beginning to result seriously.

DEPOTS FOR GERMAN PRODUCTS URGED.

BERLIN, May 2.—At the meeting of the Colon society Prince Von Hohenlohe urged the establishment of depots for German products and manufactures at all German ports, in order to enable foreign merchants to buy goods with greater convenience.

MEXICO.

BANK CLOSED.

MEXICO, May 2.—The bank of Monte de Piedad has closed and will pay creditors, but probably cease the banking business. There is a steady run on the National and Mercantile banks. There is some uneasiness in commercial circles, but banks claim they are prepared to meet all obligations.

BOSTON, May 2.—A special from the City of Mexico says: A run on the Monte de Piedad bank started Saturday. There is a panic among depositors, and distrust in financial circles of the stability of all the banking firms of the city, and runs have started on all of them. Crowds surround the Monte de Piedad and the mercantile banks, anxious to make settlements. The bank of London, Mexico and South America is the least disturbed, having been withdrawing notes since January 1. The situation is aggravated by the government directing that bank bills be refused in the offices.

RUSSIA.

A NEWSPAPER SUPPRESSED.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 2.—The journal Memoirs of the Fatherland is prohibited further publication, on the ground that its policy is hostile to social order. The Official Journal says the disclosures made at the time of the discovery of secret societies in 1882 implicated some editors of newspapers, as members of the revolutionary propaganda, and that the government will not tolerate such journals.

IRELAND.

ARRESTED ON SUSPICION.

DUBLIN, May 2.—Farrel Whims, an Irish American has been arrested at Ballymot. He had a loaded revolver and treasonable documents in his possession.

CRIMINAL CALENDAR.

RETRIBUTION SWIFT AND JUST.

KANSAS CITY, May 2.—Journal's Harper, Kas., special: Swift retribution has overtaken the Medicine Lodge murderers and robbers. A posse in pursuit yesterday came up with the robbers three miles from town, captured them after a brief struggle, brought them back to town and lodged them in the calaboose. A mob gathered at 10 P. M. and attacked the building. One robber opened fire, whereupon the crowd riddled him with bullets. The remaining three were taken out, conducted to the edge of town and hanged. The excitement of the crowd was intense. They refused to listen to the officers who endeavored to quiet them. One prisoner begged for mercy, but the others died game. The excitement increased when it was found that two of the robbers were Henry Brown and James Wheeler, marshal and assistant marshal of Caldwell. The other two, John Wesley and Henry Brown, were cowboys from the "73 range." All the men are well known here. Mr. Powner is reported dying, the bullet having entered the breast and came out under the shoulder. Geppert was first shot in the back and then in the forehead. He died instantly.

KANSAS CITY, May 2.—Journal's Harper, Kansas, special: E. W. Payne, president of the Medicine Valley bank, died last night of his wounds. The excitement at Medicine Lodge has subsided with the lynching of the robbers.

A MOB RISING.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., May 2.—The sheriff of Mason county, at Point Pleasant, West Virginia, telegraphed here this morning for cartridges. There is a prospect of a mob lynching James Kirby, who was fined $100 and imprisoned for thirty days. The people are infuriated at the verdict of the jury in the case.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., May 2.—Information from Point Pleasant in reference to Kirby, who killed young Hall some months ago and whom the jury found guilty of involuntary manslaughter, says there is great excitement at Clifton, where Hall lived. A large meeting was held last night at Clifton schoolhouse, which resulted in passing condemnatory resolutions against the jury, the judge, the prosecution and also against the jailer. There is talk of arresting some of the indignation meeting leaders.

RIOT WITH ITALIANS.

BUFFALO, May 2.—The first serious outbreak between Italians and Union laborers occurred to-night, about 10 o'clock. A large number of Italians, loading boats on the docks, were returning home. Bricks and other missiles were thrown at them. The Italians hastened to a large tenement, occupied almost exclusively by them, and French poor. A large crowd, mostly street gamins, gathered around, yelling viciously. The Italians appeared at the windows and began general and indiscriminate firing into the crowd, which rapidly disappeared. No one was killed. Several were reported struck by bullets. The police arrested ten Italians, and also several in the crowd. Quiet was restored in a short time.

A SWINDLER ARRESTED.

WASHINGTON, May 2.—The chief postoffice inspectors to-day received a dispatch from Oberlin, Ohio, stating that Inspectors Sibell and King have arrested B. F. Sivally, alias Sivells, for swindling. His scheme was to advertise for coins, such as good specimens of trade and Bland dollars, offering a premium for them. When he received them, of course, he made no returns.

WIFE MURDERERS HANGED.

PETERSBURG, Va., May 2.—Enoch Brown (colored) was hanged at the Halifax court house, North Carolina, this morning, for wife murder.

CINCINNATI, O., May 2.—William McHalgh was hanged in the enclosure at the rear of the court house this afternoon for the crime of wife murder.

DIED DECLARING HIS INNOCENCE.

ST. LOUIS, May 2.—Thomas Dickson was hanged at Bloomfield, Mo., just before noon to-day, for the murder of James McNab, near Essex, Stoddard county, this state, four years ago. Four thousand people were present. Dickson made a brief speech on the scaffold, in which he declared his innocence.

FOUND GUILTY.

NEW YORK, May 2.—Gertrude Ash, accomplice of Jesse Williams, the negro who committed robbery and assault upon Miss Maggie Harvey, at the Sloan flats, Broadway and Thirty-second, March 8th last, was found guilty and sentenced to eighteen and one-half years in the penitentiary.

MURDERER LYNCHED.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., May 2.—Word was received here this morning to the effect that Jacob Dobson, one of the Hill boys' gang, who shot ex-Sheriff Atkins of Boone county, last week, was lynched at Griffithsville, Logan county, last night.

Why so many die of consumption is because they neglect to use the proper remedy in season. When first attacked with a cough, oppression of the chest or breast, ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will cause the phlegm to raise, heal the irritated parts, and restore the system to health.

WHAT NEW YORK DEMANDS.

President Andrew D. White on the Party's Present Mission.

ITHACA, N. Y., April 24.—President Andrew D. White, who was yesterday chosen by the state convention at Utica as one of the delegates at large to the national convention from this state, was visited this evening for the purpose of finding out his presidential preferences. Although declining to name his choice, he favors a candidate who will represent the cause of civil service reform, and whose labors in that interest will be freely and faithfully given. President White is understood to have a friendly feeling for Arthur, but it is hardly to be supposed that he regards him quite as warmly as he does Judge Edmunds. His purpose is to go to Chicago in a purely independent capacity, and, after a calm survey of the field, vote for the man whose character and career promises best for reform and good government.

"If I go to the Chicago convention," he says, "it will be not as the pledged supporter of any man, but simply to aid in nominating that candidate who best represents the best tendencies of the republican party, and especially those measures of reform already begun and thus far so successfully carried out. My nomination as one of the delegates at large by the Utica convention, yesterday, was entirely unexpected and unsought, and if there are any conditions attached to it incurring more than a support of the best man to carry on reforms and insure victory, I shall decline. The coming presidential election will turn largely upon the issue of general political reform, and especially the continuance and development of the new civil service reform. I do not at all mean to say that those who distinctly favor the new civil service policy are in the majority, but I am convinced that they form a deeply earnest and devoted minority scattered through all parts of the state of New York; that there is in them something of the same 'fanaticism,' so called, which culminated those whose convictions were the germ of the republican party in old anti-slavery days. On these people ordinary political ties now sit very lightly. They believe that a return to better modes of government—national, state and municipal—is the leading question. To them it is the only living question. No matter how much our trusted party leaders scoff at them as impracticable, they constitute a fact, and a fact of prime importance as regards the political future of the state of New York. They hold the balance of power in this state, and any candidate to be successful, must give absolute assurance that he will go on fearlessly and thoroughly in the path already begun. No mere trickery will accomplish anything now on this question. It is too late for that; the people of this state and surrounding states have their eyes open on this question.

"The policy of the republican party is as clear as the day. It is to recognize this tendency toward better methods in the nation, the state and the cities; to stimulate it, to make it coherent, to guide and to satisfy it. The republican party can do this, and if it does it will renew its hold upon the convictions of the American people. The democratic party threw away a magnificent chance when it cast Pendleton overboard in Ohio. The republican party should, and I believe will, take advantage of this. We are, of course, deeply grateful to our old and time-honored leaders, and if they lead us in the direction of these new aspirations, well and good. If not, the party will quietly pass under the control of new leaders. Every party which has gained success in the history of the United States has done so by giving voice and effect to some good aspiration of the country, and the aspiration of this country at this time is not that any one man in it shall hold office, but that the government in it shall be placed in all its branches once more upon really republican and democratic foundations. This does not mean that there shall be no leadership. There ought to be, and must be leaders, but more and more our people are moving toward leaders whose leadership is given them by ideas, and not by mere doling out of patronage. Civil service reform, carried out properly in all branches of the service, national, state and municipal, will open a career not to men who are willing to become lackeys and henchmen for office, but to the children of all citizens alike, rich and poor, the only question to be fitness, and our executive and representative officers, instead of being occupied in dispensing patronage, can give their whole time to public measures.

"This better development in our public affairs is to be the central idea in politics more and more. Reconstruction is virtually accomplished. The financial question is not in a condition which arouses much alarm. As to the tariff, the history of the present congress shows the futility of any attempt to disturb it. But this question of the remedying of old political abuses which were beginning to eat the life out of the republic and the return to a better order of things is a question which grows greater and greater. The Chicago convention must prove that the republican party has not yet accomplished its mission, and is not prepared to give place to another party; that it has the ability to devise reforms for the country earnestly, and the strength to fight them through courageously, and its candidate must stand firmly on this platform if he wishes to secure the vote of New York."

THE EAST SIDE.

DEMOCRATIC RALLY.

The democratic club of East Portland met at Hall & Stott's hall last evening, President Sperry in the chair. Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, nearly a hundred were present, including several ladies.

A report was read from the committee on constitution and by-laws and adopted, and four copies ordered prepared for use by the president and vice presidents for the purpose of obtaining signatures thereto.

Prof. F. A. E. Starr, secretary of the club was now introduced as the speaker of the evening, in accordance with previous announcement. He spoke for about an hour upon current political issues, particularly that of the tariff, which he presented in a clear and forcible manner, and claiming that the democratic party, as the party of the people, could be relied upon for tariff reduction and equitable taxation. He spoke of the opposing candidates for congress and the supreme bench, to the disadvantage, of course, of the republican nominees, and believed that, with thorough organization and persistent effort Oregon's vote could be secured for the democratic nominee for president. Prof. Starr made a clean-cut and intelligent speech, devoid of any political clap-trap, and was frequently interrupted by applause.

A recess being taken for signing the roll, thirty-five persons subscribed their names; and the hat being passed, sufficient was collected to pay present current expenses.

The committee on securing a hall reported in favor of Hall & Stott's hall. The same was adopted, and Friday decided upon as the regular meeting night.

The Albina democratic club sent greetings, and appropriate action was taken with the view of co-operation and mutual assistance.

The meeting then adjourned, to meet next Friday night.

NOTES.

A carpenter named Atkinson cut his wrist severely with a knife he was using yesterday.

Katie, daughter of Judge Ballinger, aged nine years, who has been very low with typho-malarial fever for several days, showed encouraging signs of improvement yesterday.

Capt. Nat Lane of East Portland has been appointed receiver of the Albina ferryboat, the appointment growing out of the difficulty between Harkell and the Multnomah railway company.

At the regular meeting of Pioneer engine company last evening, the question of adopting a parade hat was considered, and the sample furnished by the Hayes manufacturing company was decided upon.

C. D. McLane, for some time past assistant city surveyor, has been employed by the O. R. & N. Co., and will have charge of work in progress at Willow bridge, above The Dalles. He will leave for his post of labor to-day.

Elder Boyd of the Seventh Day Adventist church returned yesterday from Carrollton, where he has been holding a series of meetings, and left again in the evening for Seattle, at which place and vicinity he will labor in the interests of his church for a short time.

ALBANY NOTES.

[FROM THE OREGONIAN'S LOCAL CORRESPONDENT.]

ALBANY, May 2

Mr. O. H. Blount of this city has purchased property near Ashland

Dr. Marten, late of Cheney, W. T., is in the city with a view of locating here.

Mrs. D. B. Monteith has gone to California, where she will remain several weeks.

Mrs. Amanda Hester has gone to Eola, Polk county where she will spend the summer.

Mr. Wm. Brunk, an old resident of Albany, has been visiting several days in the city.

Last Tuesday night the Lebanon express ran over a horse in G. W. Cooper's pasture, killing it instantly.

The committee on general arrangements for the coming firemen's picnic are perfecting plans for a lively day's sport.

In this city, April 26, Preston B. Marshall was united in marriage to Miss Minnie Houston, Rev. J. C. Floyd officiating.

Miss Ollie Jackson, formerly of this city but at present living in The Dalles, has been visiting friends here for some time past.

Linn county delegates have returned from the state convention well pleased, having been granted all the nominations they asked for.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller, father and mother of Mrs. J. McConnell, came with her from the east, and will make Albany their future home.

The citizens of Scio met last Saturday evening and decided to celebrate the coming Fourth of July on the old basket picnic style.

One hundred and fifty more Chinamen went to Corvallis by the last trip of the steamer A. A. McCully. They will immediately commence work on the railroad.

NOTES FROM THE DALLES.

THE DALLES, May 1.

The Dalles is without a daily paper.

All the schools are to be closed May day, and a large party will go on an excursion to Hood river.

The blasting at the Union street cut has ceased, and the street will be opened its entire length in the course of a few days.

The invitation ball, to be given by the German citizens at the Umatilla house Thursday evening promises to be a very pleasant and successful affair.

A small child of Mr. Eben's was killed last Tuesday in this city by falling under the wheel of a dump cart. He was trying to climb into the cart which an older brother was driving, when he fell, the wheel passing over him and causing injuries from which he died very soon.

The funeral of the late J. B. Dickerson was held from the Methodist church Sunday at 2 P. M. The church, although the largest in town, was filled to overflowing. The services, which were under the auspices of the Odd Fellows, were conducted by Revs. Haines and Flenner.

Mrs. G. M. C. Leavitt of Boston delivered a temperance address at the Methodist church Sunday evening under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. Mrs. Leavitt is an earnest and interesting speaker and was listened to with much interest by a large audience. No services were held in the other churches on account of the temperance meeting.

A survey is being made by the city to determine whether or not it will be advisable for the city to bring water from Mill creek high enough up to supply the residents on the bluff with water. If this should be done it would give a sufficient head on Main street to make it unnecessary to use fire engines in case of fire, and ought to result in a reduction of insurance rates.

"We like Mr. Arthur's administration remarkably well. It is in the nature of a daisy, but, upon the whole we think we have had about enough of Mr. Arthur. Hurrah for Blaine!"—Every Republican Convention

FREIGHTS—The ship Henry Villard is in the river from Tacoma. She is under prior charter to Sibson, Church & Co., with rate understood to be 55s for orders. The market is quiet but steady at late rates paid.

WHEAT—Foreign advices are much easier with slight decline. Other markets feel this influence and are less firm. With us inactivity prevails as regards buying, but the movement is fair.

EGGS—The quotation is 22½@25c, with a good call and slightly lessened receipts.

POULTRY—Yesterday's values are continued to-day.

WOOL—Receipts from the eastern section are large, but only a small portion of it is the new clip. All is marked for San Francisco and none of importance is coming in for local houses, although some is due early next week. Both of our new grading houses are ready for business and present strong inducements for the holder to work with or through them. While it is not expected that these houses can handle nearly all the clip this year, yet we believe they will do well and lay the foundation for better things. The handling of the clip here by local houses must attract buyers and should seemingly result in relative better prices being paid than if the wool went to a market that is pretty well filled by its own neighborhood. A price 2½ or 3 cents less than ruling eastern quotations can be paid in Portland as freights stand. To ship via San Francisco means an extra charge for ocean freight. Yet much must go that way this season, for San Francisco houses have been working hard in the interior, making advances and securing consignments. The price outlook so far is very fair and choice wools would now bring 18 to 20 cents here. The market will open at about this but is liable to back down slightly until the position can be closely defined.

HIDES, ETC.—A good request is had for dry at 18@19c, but wet salted are in slow trading at lower. Tallow in fair request at 6@7c for common.

The Merchandise Market.

The week has not been as active as previous ones, although a very fair call was had. The sailing of the northern steamer greatly helped to prevent a dull spell. By steamer and rail we continue to receive large stocks of all assortments, and other than two or three lines no accumulation is felt. Grain bags have enjoyed no local call as yet. Importation to coast ports thus far for the new season were restricted by large stocks held over. Last week a sailer arrived at San Francisco with 3000 bales Calcuttas, and there are now two sailers en route each with a similar quantity. These will close arrivals by sail for the season, and should further importation be necessary steam will be employed. The larger holders of bags deem them good property, and while some will sell for 7¾c cash, nearly all ask 7¾@7⅞c for future delivery. Oregon holdings are less than usual, and it is altogether probable that the consumer will be compelled to pay up when a general demand comes. Of late we have noted large arrivals of salt, and there is now a large quantity warehoused. The bulk of this is in large sized grain ers. Values having been checked, are now less than from first hands. Imports of rice are closed for some six weeks, when two vessels will be due from Hong Kong. Although the demand from the interior is very light, values are well maintained. Island rice is quite firm under small stocks. Coffee is weak and some kinds lower. Other lines show no quotable changes.

BEANS—Small whites, 3½c; bayos, pink and butter, 5c.

BREAD, ETC.—The call has shown a slight increase of late. Bakers quote ship 3½c, pilot 4½c; extra pilot 4¾c, soda crackers 6@6c, banana 15c.

PICKLES—Kegs quoted $1 25@1 40.

COFFEE—Costa Rica, 12½@13½c; San Salvador and Guatemala, 11½@12½c; Java best, 20c.

CANNED GOODS—Jobbers quote corn $1 60, tomatoes 2½s, $1 35, 3s, $1 50; pie peaches, $2@2 25, table peaches, $2 50@2 75, assorted table fruits, $2 75; assorted pie fruits, 2½s, $1 75, gallons, $4 50.

RICE—China mixed, $4 50@4 75, Island, $6 25.

COAL OIL—Best brands, 26c; others, 17@25c.

SALT—Liverpool fine, $16, $20 and $22 50 as to size of bags. Half ground coast, $10.

SUGARS—Quotations are: [A] patent cube, 10c; A crushed, 10c; dry granulated, 9½c; extra golden C, 8¾c; golden C, 8½c. D in bbls, 7c; extra powdered 10c. Quotations are for bbls, halves and boxes, ¼@½c advance.

WOOL BAGS—We quote 3½ lbs, 40c; 4 lbs 4 [illegible]c; Fleece twine, 10c; sewing, 30@35c.

The Meat Market.

Quotations represent rates paid by slaughterers to dealers for whole carcasses.

BEEF—Weakening tendency. Quote best quality 5½@6c; cows 4½@5c.

VEAL—Large, 8@9c; less than 100 weight, 10c.

MUTTON—Quote 4½@4¾c.

HOGS—Choice fat 6¼c; fair to good 5¾c. dressed 8@8½c.

LAMB—Spring, $2 50.

SHIPPING NOTES.

Commencing the 6th inst. the P. C. S. S. Co. will run the Mexico, Geo. W. Elder and Queen of the Pacific between San Francisco and Puget Sound. Sailing dates will be every five days.

The Oregon reached San Francisco at 7.30 A. M., and the Columbia sailed at 10.30.

The ship Imperial, hence Dec. 14 with 39,144 ctls wheat by Balfour, Guthrie & Co., has arrived at Antwerp, in a passage of 139 days.

The Idaho crossed out to-day for Alaskan ports.

"Will the coming man smoke?" was settled by Prof. Fisk in his charming pamphlet. He says, moreover, that the rational way to use tobacco is through the pipe. All agree that only the best tobacco should be used. Which is the best? That to which Nature has contributed the most exquisite flavors. Blackwell's Bull Durham Smoking Tobacco fills the bill completely. Nearly two-thirds of all the tobacco grown in the Golden Tobacco Belt of North Carolina goes into the manufactory of Blackwell, at Durham. They buy the pick of the entire section. Hence Blackwell's Bull Durham Smoking Tobacco is the best of that tobacco. Don't be deceived when you buy. The Durham Bull trade-mark is on every genuine package.

Blackwell's Genuine Bull Durham is the choice of all Judges of Smoking Tobacco.

TUTT'S PILLS

TORPID BOWELS, DISORDERED LIVER, and MALARIA.

From these sources arise three-fourths of the diseases of the human race. These symptoms indicate their existence: Loss of Appetite, Bowels costive, Sick Headache, fullness after eating, aversion to exertion of body or mind, Eructation of food, Irritability of temper, Low spirits, A feeling of having neglected some duty, Dizziness, Fluttering at the Heart, Dots before the eyes, highly colored Urine, CONSTIPATION, and demand the use of a remedy that acts directly on the Liver. As a Liver medicine TUTT'S PILLS have no equal. Their action on the Kidneys and Skin is also prompt; removing all impurities through these three "scavengers of the system," producing appetite, sound digestion, regular stools, a clear skin and a vigorous body. TUTT'S PILLS cause no nausea or griping nor interfere with daily work and are a perfect

ANTIDOTE TO MALARIA.

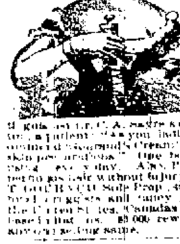
TUTT'S HAIR DYE.

[illegible] New York.

A SKIN OF BEAUTY IS A JOY FOREVER.
DR. T. FELIX GOURAUD'S
ORIENTAL CREAM, or Magical Beautifier.



Purifies as well as Beautifies the Skin.

Removes Pimples, Freckles, Moth-Patches, Rash & skin diseases and every blemish on beauty, and defies detection. It has stood the test of 30 years, and is so harmless we taste it, to be sure the preparation is properly made. Accept no counterfeit of similar name. The distinguished Dr. L. A. Sayre said to a lady of the haut ton (a patient): "As you ladies will use them, I recommend 'Gouraud's Cream' as the least harmful of all skin preparations." One bottle will last six months, using it every day. Also Poudre Subtile removes superfluous hair without injury to the skin. Mme. M. B. T. GOURAUD, Sole Prop., 48 Bond st., N. Y. For sale by all Druggists and Fancy Goods Dealers throughout the United States, Canadas and Europe. Beware of base imitations. $1000 reward for arrest and proof of any one selling same.
